Full Explanation of How Britain Uses U. S. Loan to be Asked

Demand to Confront Delegates From Britain When They Arrive

Washington, Aug. 11.—(AP)—An American demand for a full explanation of how Britain is spending her $3,750,000,000 loan will confront British delegates coming here to discuss their country's worsening financial plight.

Officials said today they need this sort of comprehensive statement before they can agree to relax any of the loan agreement provisions in a manner to help Britain save her disappearing dollar resources.

The report given parliament last Thursday by Hugh Dalton, chancellor of the exchequer, is regarded by authorities here as not sufficiently detailed to provide an accurate picture of where the money has gone.

Britain has spent all but $1,000,000,000 of the credit in 15 months—about twice as fast as anticipated. At the present spending rate all the money will be gone some time in October.

General Sympathetic

American government officials, preparing for the expected visit of British financiers next week, generally indicate that they are sympathetic toward Britain.

But these officials emphasize that the terms of the loan agreement limit the amount of help Britain can expect without congressional consent, a process that would take many months.

Other Vital Issues

But despite hints that Britain earnestly desires such action, there has been no formal request to alter the agreement under which the United States and Britain share German occupation expenses equally.

The state department successfully opposed a British effort to discuss these finances during the Anglo-American conference on Ruhr coal production. These talks are due to get under way here tomorrow.

American officials intend to confine the talks exclusively to ways of stepping up coal output, if they can. But they acknowledge the sudden worsening of Britain's financial position will make it exceedingly difficult to keep money matters from cropping up.

Another inter-related issue is the level of industrial output to be allowed Germany.

18-Year-Old Braggart Shoots Self Fatally

Port Huron, Mich., Aug. 11.—(AP)—After bragging "heck, there's nothing to it—you've got five out of six chances to live", 18-year-old Michael Edward Ernst shot and killed himself Sunday in a game of "Russian Roulette".

Police said the youth, as two boy friends watched, put a bullet in his .22 caliber revolver and spun the cylinder. He pointed the weapon at his head and fired.

The gun went off on the first try. Michael died within the hour.

To Submit Lambert to Mental Try-Out

Judge Grover W. Gehant this morning continued for 10 days hearing on an assault charge against Nelson Lambert, 32, Nacchusa, and freed Lambert on a bond originally posted here when he was admitted to probation in Lee County court in May.

Lambert is expected to be subjected to a mental examination before the case comes up again.

The assault charge was made by Howard H. Mayer, signal tower operator, who charges that Lambert assaulted him in the tower the night of Aug. 2.

Lambert denied today that he struck the first blow in the bloody brawl during which office furnishings were smashed and both were cut and bruised.

Mayer claimed that Lambert struck him after he had told him to leave the tower or he would call the sheriff's office.

FBI Gets Its Man in Search of 32 Months

Cincinnati, Aug. 11.—(AP)—Successful conclusion of a two-year eight-month search for Norbert Hurry, 31, a former Chicago truck driver, was announced today by A. E. Ostholthoff, special agent in charge of the Cincinnati Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Ostholthoff said Hurry, arrested near Kenosha, Wis., last week would be returned to Columbus, O., to face a federal court grand jury indictment charging theft from interstate shipment involving 679 cases of whisky valued at $26,000.

On Jan. 17, 1944, the special agent said, Hurry left Calvert Distillers in Louisville, Ky., with a truckload of whisky for delivery to the Kankakee Distributing Co. at Kankakee, Ill. The empty truck was found abandoned near Columbus eight days later but the whisky never was recovered, Ostholthoff reported.

Four Dug From Ruins of Railroad Station

Yuma, Colo., Aug. 11.—(AP)—Four persons were dug from the shattered remains of the Yuma railroad station with only minor injuries yesterday after 28 cars snapped loose from a Burlington freight train and plowed through the building, scattering pieces more than 200 feet.

Railroad investigators said they believed a hot journal box caused the careening cars to jump the mainline track in the heart of this east Colorado town.

Traffic was resumed five hours later over a sidetrack.

Will Ask Russians for Report on Death of Princess Hermine

Berlin, Aug. 11.—(AP)—An American Army official said today he had arrested a woman emissary who smuggled Princess Hermine's jewels to her son, Prince Ferdinand Schoenach-Carolath.

"By accident, we found she still had some of the jewels belonging to Princess Hermine which she had not turned over to the prince," said O. R. Carlucci, director of the army's criminal investigation department.

Carlucci said he would ask the Russians for a report on Princess Hermine's death on grounds that underworld characters seeking the royal jewels she possessed might have been involved. Carlucci said a physician at the Kaiser's video reported "she was in apparent

Nationalization of Steel Interests in Britain is Deferred

Socialists Say "Crisis" Makes Move Inadvisable at Present

London, Aug. 11.—(AP)—Labor party members of parliament voted approval today to a decision by Prime Minister Attlee and his cabinet to defer nationalization of the steel industry, perhaps for the duration of Britain's economic crisis.

A Socialist informant said more than 100 Laborites abstained from voting at the party caucus. Attlee's margin of victory was only four votes—81 to 77. This action forced recalcitrant members to withdraw a resolution calling upon the government to undertake the steel program at the next session of parliament, opening in October.

Labor party left-wingers have been attacking Attlee on the ground that the crisis program was "too little and too late" and his leadership was uninspiring.

On the steel issue, government spokesmen told the caucus there was no intention to abandon an election promise to nationalize the mills. They insisted, however, the cabinet should be free to choose an appropriate time.

Three Persons Die When Plane Crashes

Los Angeles, Aug. 11.—(AP)—Three persons, including the pilot and a two-year-old toddler, were dead and three others seriously injured after a low-flying plane crashed among Sunday picnickers at Ladera Park.

The victims were George Porter, 33, El Segundo, Calif., the pilot; Mrs. Eula Walters, 29, and Myrna Lynn Coffey, 2, both of Los Angeles.

Sheriff's deputies said the child was being carried in the arms of her mother, Mrs. Lawana Coffey, who was seriously injured. Hurst, perhaps critically, was the pilot's wife, Mrs. Brownie Belle Porter, a passenger in the plane.

Deputies said they were investigating reports that the plane had been buzzing a picnic of Douglas aircraft employees just before the crash. Witnesses said one wing snagged on a treetop and plunged the craft to the ground.

Flier Spans Globe in Record Time in Reynolds Bombshell

Sets Plane Down in 73 Hours, 5 Minutes, 11 Seconds After Takeoff

Chicago, Aug. 11.—(AP)—Bill Odom, rested and grinning after his three-day flight around the world which ended yesterday, received Chicago's acclaim today in a parade down state street.

The 27-year-old flier, his parents, his wife and two children, were driven down the loop's "main street" in a hastily organized procession with an honor guard of motorcycle policemen.

The usual shopping through took time out to line the street and cheer for Odom who made the exhausting 19,645-mile solo trip in 73 hours, five minutes and 11 seconds.

Odom seemed to enjoy the experience of receiving public attention. It was a marked contrast to the tension and danger of the flight.

"The good Lord was taking care of me for a while last night," Odom said, explaining that he had dozed off from fatigue over the mountains of western Canada and awoke to find himself flashing toward a 19,000 foot mountain peak.

Despite failure of an automatic pilot, lack of gas near the end of the trip, and extreme weariness, Odom, with his converted Army A-26 bomber, the Reynolds's Bombshell, broke all existing records.

These included the former solo record set in 1933 by the late Wiley Post of 186 hours and 49 minutes, and the previous flight of the Bombshell with Odom, Milton Reynolds, Chicago pen manufacturer, and Flight Engineer T. Carroll Salice, which made the trip in 78 hours 55 minutes last April.

To Enter Bendix Races

Odom's average speed for the flight, including nine hours and 50 minutes on the ground, was approximately 269 miles an hour; but during the 63 hours and 15 minutes of flying time he averaged 310.59 miles per hour.

Franklin Lamb, Odom's flight manager, said the youthful airman would enter the Bendix air races at Cleveland Aug. 30 and is planning another global flight in late October with scientists and newsmen aboard.

For the races he will fly a plane that Lamb says still is a secret, but added that "it will do considerably better than 500 miles an hour".

The new "round the world trip will be the hard way—via the

One Killed, 29 Hurt in MP Railway Wreck

Jacksonville, Ark., Aug. 11.—(AP)—One Missouri Pacific passenger train plowed into the rear of another here shortly before sunrise yesterday, killing one person and injuring 29.

Dead was Armin H. Emich, 50, of St. Louis, a railway mail clerk.

Although 17 of the injured remained hospitalized at Little Rock, last night, none was believed to be in a critical condition.

The wreck occurred at 5:26 (CDT) as a Memphis-bound train rammed the rear car of a halted St. Louis-bound train.

The railroad district superintendent's office at Little Rock said a formal investigation would be made.

Tracks were cleared quickly.

Grand Jury Probe of Land Deals Is Believed Near End

Senator Charles Baker, Monroe Center, called to testify before the grand jury on Lee and Ogilvie county land deals as it reconvened today, revealed to reporters after completing his testimony that two years ago an attempt to buy land from the J. B. Powell estate for addition to White Pines state park failed because the state only offered $125 per acre.

Last January the Meyers real estate agency here purchased 70 acres from the estate for $150 per acre and sold it to the state a week later for addition to the park at $200 per acre.

Baker said he talked to state officials two years ago about building riding stables at the Pines after a request for them had been made by the Polo Riding Club. He was told, he said, that there was insufficient room at the park at that time for the stables, but that if additional land could be purchased for $125 per acre, the state would go ahead with the project.

Several Ogle Witnesses

A subsequent attempt to complete the deal failed when the owners refused to sell for that figure.

Senator Baker was one of several Ogle county witnesses called before the jury today as it resumed its investigation of the sale of the Latta and Hanson farms in Lee county to the state department of conservation and the sale of the Powell land to the division of parks.

Others included G. T. Terry, editor of the Tri-County Press, Polo and Charles Powell and John V. Sheely, Polo, heirs to the Powell estate. Homer Alshouse, Ogle county circuit clerk, was also expected to testify in the case.

William H. McMaster, chairman of the board of the Dixon National bank, also testified this morning, and Howard G. Byers, vice president of the Dixon National, was scheduled to testify this afternoon when the jury resumed its study of the case at 1:30 p. m.

State's Attorney Morey C. Pires was noncommittal at noon today on how much longer the jury's investigation would take, but it was thought that final witnesses in the case would be heard today or tomorrow.

Peorian and Wife Held in Shooting

Peoria, Ill., Aug. 11.—(AP)—A man and his wife are being held without charge by police following the death by shooting yesterday of Glenn E. Lindsey, 36, of Brimfield, Ill., a village 18 miles northwest of Peoria.

The two held are James Murphy and his wife Dorothy Lindsey, of Brimfield, William Littell, chief deputy sheriff of Peoria county, said.

He reported they told him the following story.

With Lindsey, they had visited two taverns during the night from Saturday to Sunday. Lindsey, who was driving, let Murphy out at the Murphy home at 3:30 a. m. Sunday and had driven off with Mrs. Lindsey asleep in the back seat.

Taking a .32 caliber pistol from his home, Murphy followed Lindsey's car on foot to where it was parked beside a road. An argument ensued after Murphy accused Lindsey of molesting Mrs. Murphy, and Lindsey was shot twice and clutched with the pistol.

Lindsey re-entered his car and left the scene, and was found dead in a cornfield, seated in his car.

Prospects for Rain in Sweltering Corn Belt Discouraging

Some Relief From Heat Wave May be Felt in Midwest Tomorrow

(By The Associated Press)
Little rain was in prospect for the nation's thirsty corn or to quench forest fires today as the midwest experienced a heat wave for the second Monday in a row with forecasts predicting some relief Tuesday.

In the corn belt no rain was in immediate sight except for scattered showers in western and central Nebraska in the next day or two, the U. S. weather bureau said. Some scattered showers fell Sunday in the Dakotas and southwest and some light rain was expected today in the Pacific Northwest, New Mexico and Arizona.

Although forest fires still raged in Idaho and California they were under control with little prospect of showers to douse them. Louisiana fire fighters also could expect no help from rain, as the south remained hot and virtually rainless, forecasters said.

Cooling Air on Move

A cooling air mass from the northwest moved very slowly across the Dakotas and into Minnesota today and it was expected to bring relief from near 100 degree temperatures in Iowa, Indiana, and southern Wisconsin by late Tuesday although it was not expected to extend south of the Ohio river.

The nation's hot spot Sunday was Waco, Tex., which reported an

First Hinny Ever Seen at State Fair Displayed

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 11.—(AP)—The mule barn at the Illinois State Fair today housed a hardy looking white young colt with the bray and ears of a young mule but looking very much like a horse.

The animal is a hinny—the offspring of a female donkey (a jennet) and a stallion. Irwin Curtis of Attnamsville, Ill., head of the fair's mule department, said the hinny was the first to be exhibited in the 91-year history of the exposition.

It is owned by David Dodds, Virginia, Ill., mule and Palomino horse breeder. Attempts to cross a jennet with a stallion usually are ineffectual or result in a stillborn offspring, Curtis said.

Dodds said the hinny was the second he had encountered, and the first white one he had seen. It was sired by an Albino stallion, Dodds said.

Slight Earthquake Is Felt in Midwest

Chicago, Aug. 11.—(AP)—A slight earthquake shook northern Illinois and parts of Indiana, Wisconsin, Ohio and Michigan Saturday evening but no material damage was reported.

According to records at Loyola University the quake began at 9:47.22 p. m. (CDT) and continued for about four minutes. The Rev. Alphonse Schmitt, professor of physics at the university, said he had no information that would indicate where the center of the disturbance may have been.

The only damage reported was a broken mirror in one house and falling plaster in another, although many persons called police and newspapers.

Chicago, Aug. 11.—(AP)—The head and legs of a young woman were found by police today two blocks from an alley where other parts of her dismembered body were discovered Sunday.

Wrapped in cloth, the remaining parts of the body were located behind a house by police after a painstaking search of a six-block square area.

The victim was identified through scars on the torso as Mrs. Jean Howard Trecki, about 20.

A junk dealer found one section of the body, from the waist to the knees, bundled into a blanket Sunday morning. The upper part, wrapped in a gray bedspread and stuffed into a shopping bag, was

Hearings Deferred Until November 17 by Senate Probers

Plane Maker Doesn't Believe Committee Will Again Probe His Wartime Contracts

Washington, Aug. 11.—(AP)—The senate inquiry into Howard Hughes' plane contracts was adjourned today until fall, and Hughes declared it was called off because Senator Brewster (R-Me) was "too cowardly" to continue their fight.

Hughes made this charge in a statement read to news-reel cameramen after the senate war investigating committee had abruptly adjourned its inquiry into his $40,000,000 wartime plane contracts until Nov. 17.

Brewster is chairman of the full committee.

Senator Ferguson (R-Mich) chairman of a subcommittee conducting the hearings, announced that the group decided on the delay because John W. Meyer, Hughes' party-throwing publicity man, could not be located for further testimony on his expense accounts.

With Brewster vacationing in Maine, Hughes said the committee chairman had fought a "losing battle against public opinion."

Exchanged Punches

Brewster and Hughes, millionaire Hollywood plane builder, exchanged charges before the committee in testimony last week.

With both under oath, Hughes charged and Brewster denied that the senator offered last winter to call off the inquiry if Hughes would agree to a merger of Trans World Airlines with Pan American Airways.

Hughes, Hollywood film producer and plane designer, holds a controlling interest in TWA.

Brewster left Washington Friday after the subcommittee had closed hearings on that particular aspect of the case and turned to circumstances of how Hughes got his plane contracts.

"When Senator Brewster saw he was fighting a losing battle against public opinion," Hughes declared, "he folded up and took a run-out powder."

"When Senator Brewster headed for the backwoods of Maine, that was the tip-off, Washington was getting too hot for him!"

"There was no reason for the other senators on this committee to continue his losing battle for him if he was too cowardly to stay here and face the music."

Hughes Believes in Public
The Hollywood plane builder said he thought the hearing had been adjourned "because the people of this country render the final decision in any controversy," and were back of him.

Hughes previously had told reporters he does not believe the hearings ever will be resumed, despite Ferguson's announcement that Meyer will be subpoenaed for an appearance Nov. 17.

"It was very obvious from the time I first walked into this room that the public and the press were on my side," Hughes declared as news-reel cameras recorded his statement. "They believed that there was no justification for this investigation in the first place."

When Hughes had read his statement once to time it, he turned to his attorney, Thomas Slack, and said:

"Say, Tom, do you find anything libelous in this?"

"No," Slack replied.

In announcing the decision to defer further hearings for three months, Ferguson gave two principal reasons:

Other demands on the senators' time, including plans several have made for trips to Europe.

The inability of the committee to locate John W. Meyer, free-

spending publicity man for Hughes.

Ferguson said that Nov. 17 was the earliest date that committee members could conclude other work, including the prospective trips to Europe.

But, Hughes, smiling broadly, told reporters:

"I don't really think the hearings will be reopened."

The Hollywood film producer and plane builder, also told questioning newsmen he thought the reason the committee gave for postponement was "ridiculous."

Hughes Says He's Sorry
Hughes added at an impromptu news conference that he was "quite sorry" the hearings had recessed.

Answering a question as to whether he thought the hearing accomplished anything, Hughes said:

"Yes, I think something was accomplished by my coming. There had been a great deal of misconception about this case, for example: That it cost $1,500,000 to move the plane to the water when actually it cost only between $80,000 and $90,000."

He was referring to the still-grounded 200-ton cargo plane which he began to build five years ago.

Hughes said he never had a chance to tell "half of what I came to tell." He added that he still had about 400 pages of long-handled notes.

While expressing doubt that the hearing will be reopened, Hughes told reporters he would welcome an opportunity to go back on the stand "because there has been a lot of inaccurate testimony."

Replies to Questions
In reply to questions, Hughes said he doubts that the big flying boat will be ready to take to the air by November.

As for the photo reconnaissance plane, Hughes declared "I can't exactly say" when it will be completed.

"It's undergoing tests right

Regimentation of Britons Starts in New "Crisis Bill"

Empowers Government to Tell Workers Where to Work

By DE WITT MACKENZIE
A. P. Foreign Affairs Analyst
Two days ago this column in commenting on Prime Minister Attlee's drastic proposals for dealing with Britain's economic collapse, ventured the view that his country's first all-out socialist experiment already had arrived at the point of considerable regimentation of the individual, in fact had made a sharp turn toward a regime partaking of totalitarianism.

Events strengthen that thought. Yesterday Britain's Socialist-controlled House of Commons—integral part of the "mother of parliaments" and watchdog for the little man's bill of rights—adopted a measure that places in the hands of the government emergency powers which democracies associate with the exigencies of war-time.

This legislation is called the "Crisis Powers" bill. It empowers the government to tell the workers of England where they must be employed, and what hours they must work. The government can take over the management of firms considered to be operating inefficiently.

war-time Prime Minister Churchill, declared in a blistering attack on the bill that the Socialists were asking parliament to give a blank check for totalitarian government and were using the crisis as a pretext and when Home Secretary Chuter Ede said the government believed that "this is a crisis likely to move forward with such rapidity that we should have power to deal drastically and swiftly with awkward situations that may arise" Churchill snapped: "Hitler said that!"

There are, of course, extreme left-wingers in the Socialist party who are driving for a Muscovite dictatorship. However, there have been no signs previously that the rank and file were doing more than following Attlee in establishing the Utopia which they believe is attainable through the magic of nationalization. They can't have much idea of what nationalization will do for England, because it will not be tried on a big scale before, but they are gambling on discarding the economic system which made England great.

The Conservatives charge that the present crisis is due to this Socialist experiment. Perhaps some of it is, but there can be no doubt that a considerable portion of it was an inheritance from the World War. Whether the difficulties could have been overcome with better management under any form of government is a matter of debate.

In any event, the Socialist regime now is caught in a net from which it probably cannot escape without the aid of "Crisis Powers".

Recoveries, Fines on Unpaid Federal Taxes Make Record

Nearly Two Billion Dollars Collected in August by Treasury

Washington—(AP)—Recoveries of unpaid taxes and penalties set a record total of 1 billion 938 million dollars in the fiscal year ended June 30, the treasury has announced. The tax enforcement effort paid off in recoveries more than 50 per cent higher than were obtained in 1916. Internal Revenue Commissioner George J. Schoeneman said.

In the same report Frank Bow, acting customs commissioner, announced the uncovering of false and fraudulent declarations on imported goods which made items worth $1,500,000 subject to forfeiture.

Smugglers Pay Penalties
"Substantial" recoveries of forfeited merchandise and penalties were obtained also. Dow disclosed, from the "casual" smuggling of travelers. The illegal traffic in watches, jewelry, perfume and other small items has grown with expanding world travel.

"Increased international air travel gave customs a new enforcement problem," the report states. Those powers assuredly mean regimentation of the individual, but the big question is how long that regimentation will have to be employed, and how far it will be carried. This much we can say:

The longer regimentation is practiced, the more closely will it approach totalitarian dictatorship. And should dictatorship be reached there would be no turning back through the peacefully expressed will of the electorate.

said. "However, officials found no evidence of large scale, organized smuggling attempts."

About 2 million dollars was recovered by the alcohol tax unit. Because of sugar rationing enforcement illicit distilling operations dropped. Arrests and convictions were the lowest in any year since the repeal of prohibition. Some 6,000 stills were seized and arrests totaled 7,864.

Since the end of sugar rationing in June, the treasury reported, there is evidence of "an upward trend" in illegal distillery operations. Increasing trouble is expected.

Record for Tax Evasion
The intelligence unit of the bureau of internal revenue, leading the campaign against tax evaders, reported record figures for cases under investigation, indictments and convictions. W. H. Woolf, intelligence chief, reported the investigation of 4,125 cases of apparent tax fraud. Of the cases carried into criminal court, 334 persons were indicted. Of 190 individuals brought to trial, 182 were convicted.

One New York war contractor was assessed additional taxes and penalties exceeding $500,000. He paid a heavy fine also for understating business income by charging off lavish personal expenses on company records. The report did not identify him.

Alleged Robbery in Rochelle Sends Two Before Grand Jury

Rochelle—Charles Ressler and Gerald Crouch, both of Muncie, Ind., are being held in the Ogle county jail at Oregon for action by the grand jury, after being bound over to that body by Justice of the Peace S. W. Helfer. Ressler faces larceny charges while Crouch is accused of having been an accessory to larceny.

The two, it was testified in court, had lived at 508 North 14th street, Rochelle, since July 17, working in a cannery and later with a corn detasseling crew.

About 1 a. m. Thursday, they were said to have gone to the room of Ronald Alexander at the Ogle hotel, and later, after leaving the hotel, were warned to get off the streets by police because of their condition.

Later Thursday Daniel Sullivan reported to police that his hotel room had been entered and that a suit, a watch, $10 in cash and other articles were missing.

Rochelle officers found the suit in the coal bin at 508 14th street, it was alleged. Ressler, when taken into custody, had $130 on his person, and allegedly told officers he had found $160.

A Good Place To Work

Sunday Morning News in Review

Red Tide Again Hits Florida—From Clearwater, Fla., The Associated Press reported that the mysterious "red tide," laden with dead fish, had again swept Florida's Gulf shores, and a Chamber of Commerce official had attributed the phenomena to the Army's dumping of poisonous gas.

While workers labored to clear the beaches of the dead fish washed up by breakers, the secretary of the local Chamber of Commerce said an analysis of the fish showed traces of arsenic "and it is our understanding that Lewistite gas has a heavy base of arsenic." Earlier a war department spokesman had said that no gas bombs had been dropped in the Gulf since July, a year ago.

Two Bank Robbers Caught—In Addison, Mich., Saturday, two young bandits were caught a few hours after they had robbed a bank of $3,000 in which they held up the 66-year-old woman president of the institution. They were captured in a woods a few miles from the town.

The two youthful holdup men, identified by officers as being from Detroit, were seized by a posse of state and county officers, after their car was found abandoned and covered with hay, behind a farmer's barn, in an evident attempt to conceal it. Both were armed, but no shot were fired. All of the stolen money was recovered.

15 Died in Railroad Wreck—In Doncaster, England, 15 persons were killed and 59 injured when a fast express train crashed into the rear of a slower passenger train. All of the dead and injured were passengers in the last four coaches of the slower train, which was crowded with 500 persons leaving London for a week-end holiday. The engineer and fireman of the express escaped serious injury when they jumped from their locomotive just before the crash.

Amnesia Victim in Monmouth—In Monmouth, Ill. Saturday, an amnesia victim, who had wandered about the country for two months, was returned to his family in Lowell, Mich., but he still was unable to remember where he had been or what he had done.

Monmouth police said a man walked into the station yesterday, laid a wallet on the desk and said he'd been accused of stealing it. "I don't remember if I did or not," he said, and collapsed.

When revived he identified the wallet as his own and said he was Newton I. Grimwood, a lieutenant in the naval reserve.

He told police he had left Lowell Thursday.

"You mean Thursday, Aug. 7?" police asked.

"What are you trying to do, kid me?" was Grimwood's rejoinder. "I mean Thursday, June 12."

When told it was August, Grimwood said, "My God, where have I been?"

His wife and father came to Monmouth and took Grimwood home. They said he had been missing since June 12 when a brick struck him on the head as he was doing some construction work.

Find Bomber, Eight Bodies—

A Flying Fortress containing the bodies of eight United States airmen, was found in 45 feet of water off Lignana, near Trieste, Saturday. The plane is presumed to have been shot down during the war.

Bird songs are now believed to be a means of warning intruders away from territory appropriated by the singer.

Rock Falls Man Held in Rape Attempt Case

Clyde Near, 24, of Rock Falls, was bound over to the Whiteside grand jury late Saturday afternoon by Justice of the Peace Gus Hanson of that city on a charge of attempting to rape a 15-year-old Rock Falls girl in her home early that morning.

Rock Falls authorities were informed that Near had entered the girl's home shortly after midnight, but fled when the screams of his intended victim awakened other members of her family.

A SUCCESSFUL TRIP
for you (or your freight)?

Maybe it's prompt arrival at the destination printed on your ticket. Or freedom from weather-worry. Or clean comfort, plenty of elbow room, good food and an opportunity to relax with a book, or with fellow-travelers.

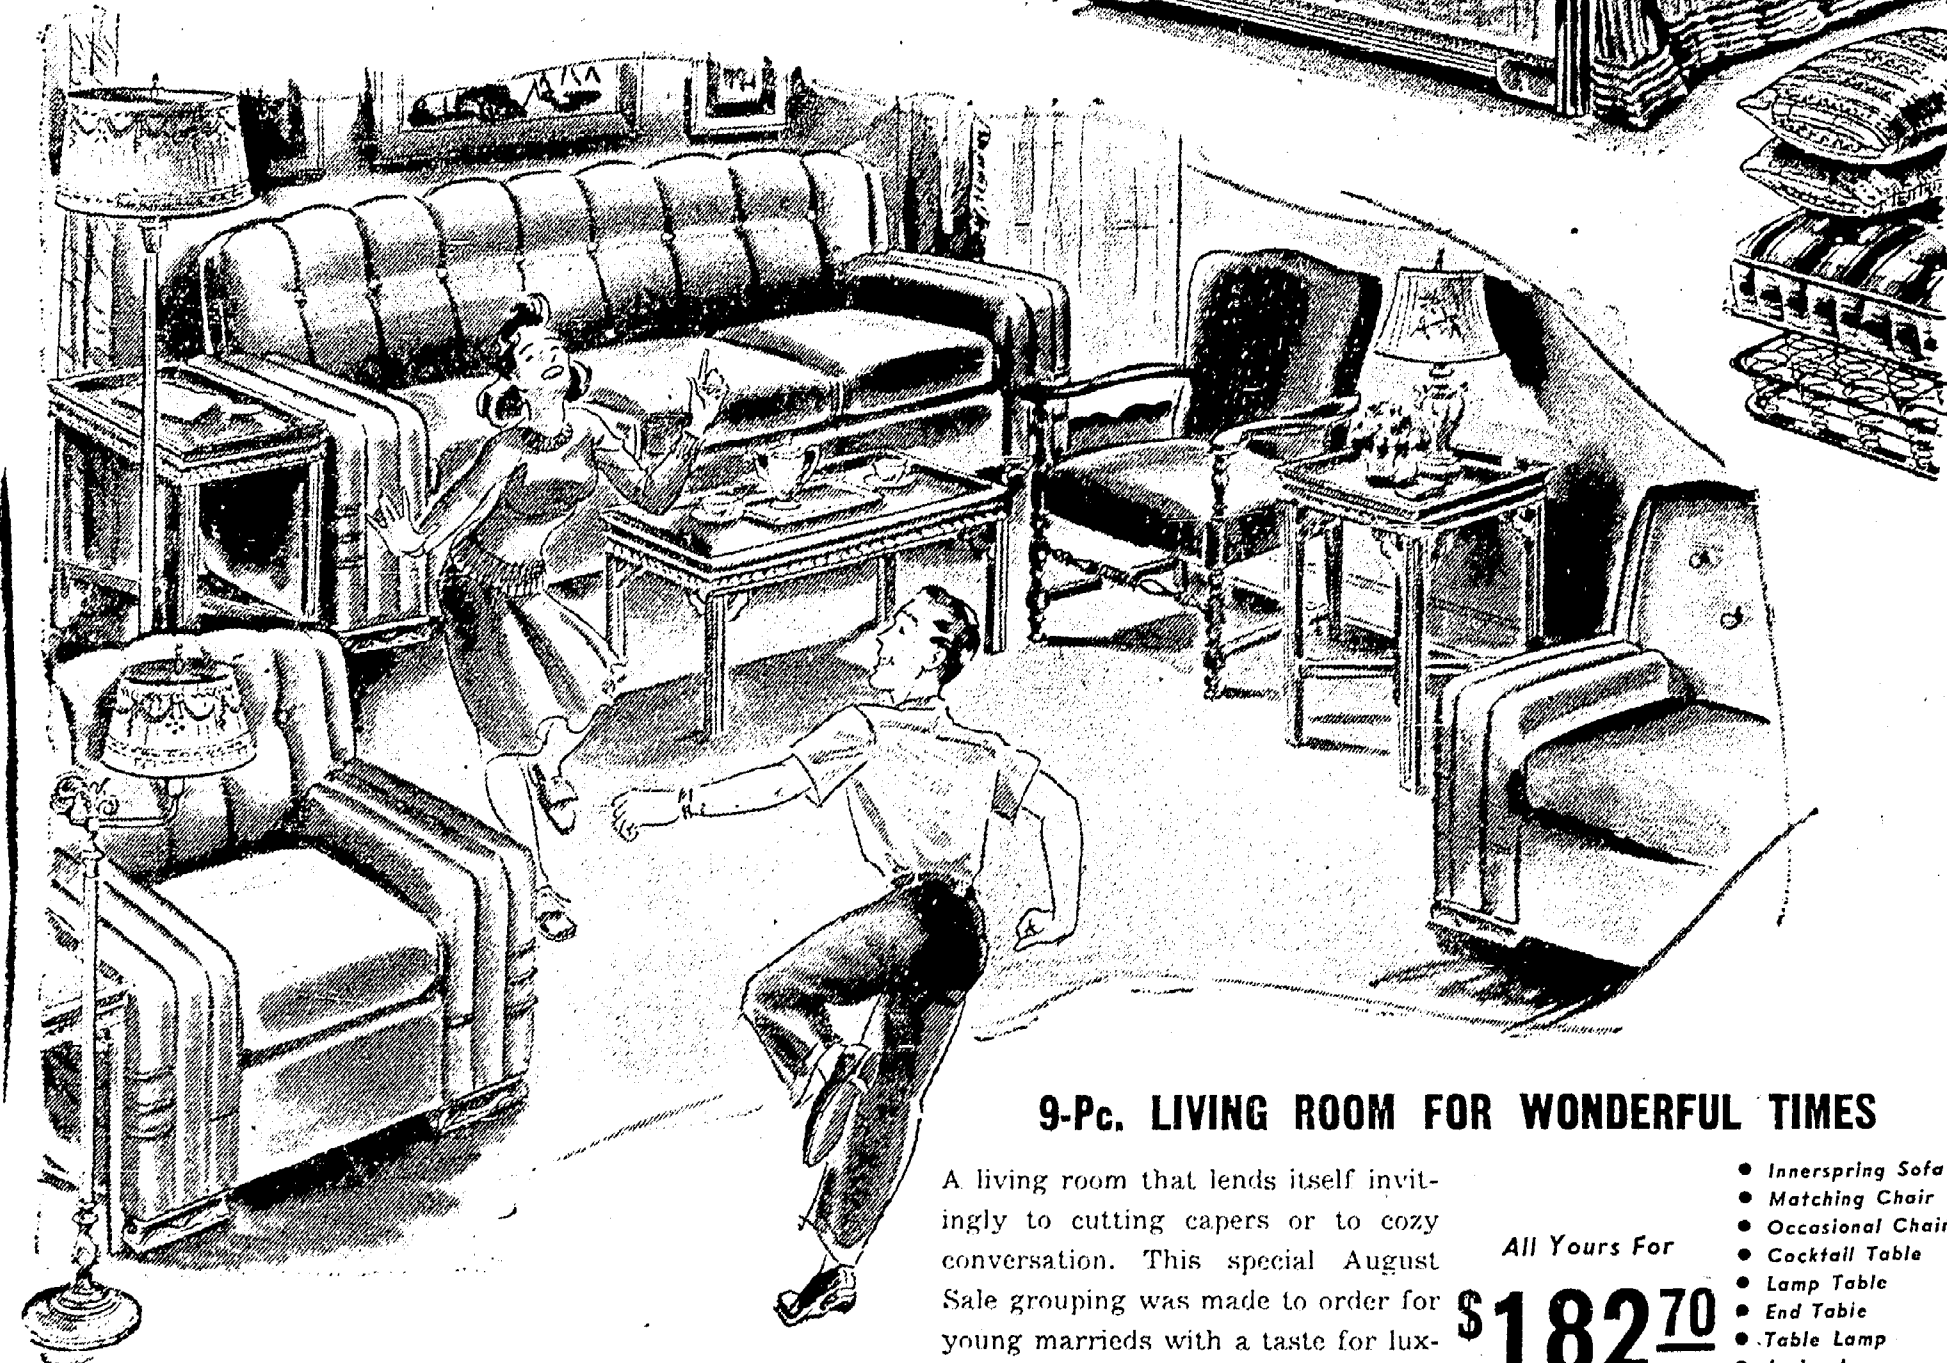

Or maybe what's more important to you is the delivery of a new refrigerator, a lawn-mower or a set of dinner dishes.

For whatever makes your trip a success you can thank an item on the Illinois Central's account books—an item that last year added up to 36 million dollars—the amount spent to keep this railroad's locomotives and cars in dependable, smooth-running order.

That's a lot of money. But not too much for a railroad pledged to earn your friendship and patronage by the quality and progressive spirit of its service.

A Thought for Today

Let's: 1000 art weighed
in the balances, and art found
wanting.—Daniel 5:27.Truly at the day of judgment we shall not be examined as to what we have read,
but as to what we have done;
not as to how well we have
spoken, but as to how religiously we have lived.—Thomas A. Kempis.

The Coal Consumer

In the long run, the constant
labor problems that have been interrupting production in the coal
industry may be solved by coal
consumers, industrial and domestic.It may be possible for the miners' union to jack up coal wages
—which represent the bulk of the cost of producing coal—to any level they desire. But it will not be possible for the union or anyone else to force consumers to pay
coal at artificially high prices if
some other fuel can be substituted
at a saving.Coal must be marketed in growing competition with other
fuels, such as oil, gas, and in time,
atomic power. These competitive
fuels have already made inroads
into markets which were once held
exclusively by the coal industry.
How coal will fare in maintaining
its competitive position in the future will depend primarily on its cost to the user.Before the recent wage negotiations began, the coal miners
had the highest earning power of
workers in any comparable industry. They have achieved many other costly benefits, such as the welfare fund. Employment—when the industry hasn't been shut down
by strikes or extended "holidays"
—has held to very high levels.
Now the miners have won still another substantial wage advance
—which will undoubtedly be reflected in the market price of coal. It remains to be seen whether the union will work to increase the productivity of mine
labor, will honestly cooperate with the operators to maintain peace
within the industry, and will do
what else it can to save jobs of its members.

Foolproof Triumph

Dictator Franco's henchmen
have called the lopsided vote approving his law of succession "a triumph beyond precedent."There is no opposition party permitted in Spain. The voters were required to have certificates showing they had voted, and were threatened with trouble if they didn't. Franco's stooges counted
the ballots of course. Then they burned them. There was no way of checking the results.Yes, it certainly was a triumph
—like those landslides that periodically re-elect Generalissimo
Stalin to the top job in Russia.News

By PAUL MALLON

(Copyright, 1947, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)Washington — A Republican leader in New England (former Willkie domo) says Gov. Dewey
will not at a convention delegate in his whole area. "As between Dewey
and Taft, it would not take me 10
seconds to make up my mind," he has been heard to tell top national Republicans. Apparently a Saltonstall movement is to be launched in the fall up there, and
this leader presumably expects
New England to go for the Massachusetts senator, who put over the army-navy unification bill.All this talk, however, ignores Joe Martin, the house speaker,
who has been chosen legally by congress as next in line for the Truman chair. Martin could logically be chosen by the New England Republicans at their next convention as their own man to supplant the Democratic president in recognition of the fact that he is now practically serving in "national capacity. However, Martin seems unambitious at political organization, which is essential to control
conventions although he certainly did well in organizing the house
for unity.In any event, the story of this un-named New England leader
displays how top Republicans generally are taking the Dewey trip
west. They looked on it as a well-contrived publicity venture but
now view the results to be that Dewey got more newspaper space
out of it than he will get delegatesThey say, it was well contrived
because the New York governor
went to the places he knew he would be received, and avoided the areas where his welcome might not achieve the best publicity. His first stop was St. Louis, where a favorable national commitman (Mattingly) promised him the delegation. But immediately the Kansas City Republican group, including Senator Kem, came forward in opposition which achieved no publicity. It became clear, however,
Mattingly would have trouble
delivering Missouri Republicans.
Similarly in Oklahoma, Lew Wentz
retired oil man, promised the delegation to Dewey, but Senator Moor, Skelly, (former committe-
man) and others showed the would not go along with Wentz. Oklahoma was left in doubt.Then Harold Stassen, the career candidate, came forward with
what he had been indicating privately, namely a suggestion that the Republicans should consider
only candidates who have taken
public stands on public national questions (which Dewey largely had not). California Gov. Warren's people, meanwhile, made no
effort to stop the inside news within the party that he had not tied up with Dewey or anyone. What the news actually said was: "Warren won't play with anyone."
Pennsylvania and Illinois obviously have other (anti-Dewey?) ideas
and Michigan will surely be for Vandenberg. So the question seems to be: Where outside New York
will Dewey get enough delegates
to win.The emergence of Senator Taft
into this candidatorial situation
at his Columbus celebration thus
had a greater significance than

Pegler
Sees It

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

(Copyright, 1947, by King Features Syndicate, Inc.)New York—The American Veterans' Committee, one of the ideology fronts organized to entice gullible men and women who served in the latest world war,
recently held its second national convention in Milwaukee. This organization has been infested
with Communists from the day
of its founding and still offers
the most congenial company for an avowed Muscovite that may be found on the hither side of the Communist party itself. Its attitude toward Communists may be likened to that of a social-minded
slummer toward a mudwedged bum
on the next pallet in a nickel flop.
The A.V.C. winces about the nose
but doesn't get up and go, because that would be Red-baiting.The A.V.C. was conceived and founded by Charles G. Bolte, an American who fought in the British army and lost a leg. The wooden prop, on which he stomped
noisily to some slight and momentary prominence during a term of one year as the chairman, or founding father, has been publicized no less than the nimble pegs
of Peter Stuyvesant and Long
John Silver.The New York Herald Tribune
gave Bolte a job writing his opinions on veterans' organizations. He soon took a sock at the American Legion, the big store of
the veteran business and the principal opposition of his own upstart concern. In this role, the Tribune did not identify him as a political and financial rival of the Legion. But shortly after one of my daily messages to posterity
called attention to the queer ethics
of the case, Mr. Bolte's weekly contributions to the knowledge, or confusion, of his fellow-citizens ceased to run. Later, the New York Times used a review byBolte, laudatory, of course, on the latest and, no doubt, final, book
of John Roy Carlson, the notorious Levantine sneak, entitled "The Plotters."Carlson, born Derounian, was associated in sneakery and snoop-
ery with the Friends Of Democracy, a private and personal spying concern. For a short time he was wished onto the F.B.I. as a paid informer but was fired because he was not turning up
original information. The Friends Of Democracy is a personal enterprise of a former preacher from Kansas City named L. M. Birk-
head, Kenneth Birkhead, his son,
is now executive director of the espionage system and was elected
a member of the planning committee, the national governing body of the A.V.C., at the recent convention. The A.V.C. bulletin
says young Birkhead helped the frightened sneak Derounian to write both of his books, "Under Cover" and "The Plotters." In a layout in Chicago the federal court said Derounian was such a wanton professional liar that he was unworthy of belief even on oath.Bolte now departs for England
to immerse himself in the nut-
brown scholarship of the mother country, fat and easy-minded on
a rich diet of home-cooked compliments whipped up by the A. V.
C.'s publicity department.The commanding officer of the
A. V. C. is called the chairman.
Bolte's successor, elected at Milwaukee after a fine reproduction,
in miniature, of French and Czechoslovakian partisan parliamentary scheming, is one Chat
Patterson. He seems to represent the yes-and-no party. There were two other parties, both left-wing but one to the left of the other.After the election, Ken Pettus,
the defeated candidate of the
farthest left group, sent a message of congratulation to Patterson. He promised his support but went on to say that the A. V. C.
was retreating ignominiously because a tidal wave of reaction. He wrote that the "fire and fightthat was our boast and strength is gone." The confusion of the plural and the singular may be ascribed to Mr. Pettus' editorial
raising. He ain't no conformist, even in grammar. He once was an editor for the Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers of the C. I. O.
which has been enjoying a gaudy
purge of his old Communist colleagues in the last six months.
At the end of 'he war, he bobbed
up as managing editor of the Pacific edition of the Stars and Stripes in Tokyo. There he flunked a loyalty check and was relieved and sent home.Mr. Patterson's party at Milwaukee disapproved Red communism along with the black and brown versions of the same infection. The official A. V. C.
bulletin reported that the Pettus
party resented all such aspersions
on Bolshevism.Mr. Pettus' dubious felicitations told Mr. Patterson that too many members had lost faith in the
A. V. C. and that too many chapters were "dying on the vine."Too many chapters now exist in name only, Mr. Pettus said, and there now existed within the A.
V. C. "a bitterness" which gave him to contemplate the grisly
spectacle of the A. V. C. dancing
on its own grave at next year's convention.This is the first admission from the inner circle that the A. V. C.
actually is dying off. Here was just one more group of juvenile political cut-ups who persisted in chumming with the Communists
and antagonizing unequivocal
American patriots long after

XXXIII
WHEN he got back to the doctor's, Bessy and Beulah had left. "I sent the ladies home," Foy
said virtuously. "They were anxious to do all they could, but I told them this wasn't woman's work,
not now. You've got something new, haven't you?""What about the New York
calls?"

"Too soon. Why?"

"Because it's Chicago we want.
At least I think so. . . I've got a name, or part of a name, of a man Ruth Miller called. My source of information isn't too strong in the head, but I don't want to throw
this away because of that. Do you think Chicago could track
down Lawford and Crawford with one hand and check the 2-8277 phones with the other?"
Lawford or Crawford is supposed to be a man of prominence. We can let them keep on with the New York calls at the same time."The only sound for the next few minutes was Foy's low voice apologizing to Chicago.Then Foy hung up. "They'll do what they can, but they say it's a paper chase. Can't you dig up a little more?""One thing at a time, wash this up first. Did they know a big shot with a name like Lawford or Crawford?""They didn't say so. Sometimes a man is so big that people don't think of him.""Right. But he needn't be big at that. A man of prominence in Ruth Miller's world could be anything, a civil-service employee or
a minor city official, a nice guy
in a clean white shirt who finished
high school and took courses at night to improve himself."Foy said, "That guy could be a former employer.""That's what I'm crossing my fingers for. An employer, preferably in a department store or a shop. Maybe a floorwalker. MissLibby thinks there's a tie-up with a store or a shop. Miller claimed inexperience, but she knew too much about selling. Libby thinks
—"The phone rang. It was the first
New York call, from Headquarters.
Four exchanges had been cleared, and a squad was covering
the locations.THEY sat on, talking, silent,
talking, watching the clock.
New York reported at intervals,
but there were no leads."I don't know why we can't lock somebody up," Foy snapped.
"I don't like to be diddled by a girl!""But this is no ordinary diddling, and no ordinary girl. She looks and acts average, and that's why she has us by the throat.
This one is as smart as anything
that ever went through your hands." She did her stuff like a mathematician. In the end, when we take her aside for a little heart-to-heart, we'll probably find
that her schedule ran something like this. She got hold of the extra costume, because she knew all about it. She hid it—my guess is the second-floor bathroom or palcroom, easy to get at. She was lucky about the chef's accident,
that gave her a break; but she could have worked without it.She called Miller into position under Plummer's eyes, when the other girls turned Plummer down. She'd had Miller spotted from the first, probably because Miller appeared with April who was too easy to identify. . . .
She then went upstairs and
waited, and I think she locked Fister's door for added safety.
Too close to the first floor. So Miller, poor little devil, had to go on up to Brady's. And on Brady's we had the business
Knockout with music box, trade
masks. Then a quick look-see down the hall, another safetymeasure. But the elevator was ringing then, and that might bring trouble. So she took the elevator over, she didn't dare not to, and ferried Mrs. Marshall-Gill to the main floor. She returned at once to eighth, Marshall-Gill watched the indicator. Back in Brady's she finished her job, and I don't have to tell you what that was, went down to Miller's room and opened the window. Getting set for the suicide angle, see?" He gave his theory of the changed masks, the series of appearances as Ruth Miller and herself. "I've gone over
that routine until I'm sick of it,"
he said. "It's clear, it fits with what I've been told. So what?" So that's all it is. A piece of reasoning that fits."Then the phone rang.
CHICAGO had found a private residence in an exclusive
suburb with the right phone number. It belonged to Norman Crawford, president of Bassett and Wright, one of Chicago's largest department stores. Crawford was not home, but they knew where he was and were getting to him
fast. It would be a matter of minutes, they were keeping an open wire.Foy sat with the receiver to his ear."At times like this," Mark said
softly, "I wouldn't take a million
for my job."Foy said, "Hello. All set here,
get on with it."The other two crowded him.
They heard respect creep into his voice and saw it straighten his shoulders. He sat as if he were standing at attention.Chicago talked, first in a hearty growl, then in a steady, flowing stream. Foy said little beyond,
"Yes, sir, you have it correct, sir,"
but he clung to the phone as Ruth Miller must have done. He had nothing to fear, nothing to hide
from, but his mobile Irish face
told the watchers that Ruth was living and dying again in Norman Crawford's story. The story took seven minutes to tell, and Foy interrupted only twice, toward the end. He said, "I've got everything
but the name, sir," and after that he said, "I'll be —"

Leading Designers Put Women On Own In Fall Fashions

Paris, Aug. 11—(AP)—You will have to do a little hem dropping on everything in your wardrobe to be a la mode, but leading designers seem to be more or less putting the fashionable women on their own this fall.

There are a la carte menus in styles stretching from our glass waists and long hobble skirts to be the graceful billowing princess silhouette. But you can relax if you are worried, because the first and decisive round of fall collections shows that the long, below the calf skirt is not a must this season, even though it is creating the sensation at the fall showings now underway here.

Skirt Freedom
Schiaparelli, Maggy Rouff and other leaders are showing just as many midcalf length, free-swinging skirts as they are showing long and tight ones that restrict movement.

In brief, there needs to be no tug-o-wars with bedposts to lace recalcitrant waists down to 22 inches, anywhere than you need walk with tiny mincing steps because your legs are cramped in a narrow skirt but 12 inches from the ground.

Decision to Wear
If you have the figure that can take it and the will to wear it, then Paris says you can have it. But the dress designers in Paris this season leave that decision to you. Dropping your hem as far as they will go should just about set you to rights.

CONGRESS 16 PLANS SHARE DISH SUPPER

WOMEN'S SOCIETY
Members of the Women's Society of World Service of the Grace Evangelical United Brethren church will hold their regular meeting Tuesday afternoon, Aug. 12, at 2:00 o'clock at the church. Hostesses will be Mrs. Pius Burdard and Mrs. John Huene.

The Canadian census of 1941 showed 375,000 more males than females in the country.

All-Stars Slap Rock Falls 19-6 Under Lights Here

The United All-Stars last night slapped out 15 hits with enough vigor to push across 19 runs for a 19-6 victory over the Rock Falls Boosters in the feature game on the softball card under the arcs at the airport.

The Rock Falls team filled in for Henney Motors of Freeport, second team in as many Sundays which has failed to appear for the feature game with the All-Stars.

Officials announced this morning that because of these two misfires, next Sunday's double bill will be presented at no charge.

The Rock Falls crew scored a 16-12 victory over Freemans in the lid lifter.

In the All-Stars' case, it didn't take long to sew up the game. With Shires Miller belting a home run, they moved out in front with a nine-run blast in the opening frame and were never threatened.

"Flash" Fordham and "Corky" Kernan split the mound work for the locals, and scattered 10 hits.

Rock Falls came back after the big first inning outburst by the All-Stars with four in the second and two more singletons in the third and fourth. The locals were in the second, but picked up enough speed in the third to punch across six more tallies, then coasted the remainder of the distance.

Earl Page, with a home run, triple and single, sparked the All-Stars at the plate.

In the opener, J. Siedel proved more effective than Vivian with men on bases, and, although Freemans equalled the Rock Falls hit output, 14, they dropped a 16-12 verdict, leaving nine men stranded on the paths.

The lineups:

Team	AB	R	H	PO	A	E
United All-Stars	34	19	21	8	1	0
Rock Falls	34	6	12	10	6	2

Score by innings—United All-Stars 19, Rock Falls 6.

Net Team Out of Sterling Tourney

Dixon's bid for a place in the Rock River Tennis league's doubles tournament failed yesterday when three local doubles entries went down to defeat at Sterling.

The finals will be played there next Saturday at 3 p. m., with Goldman and Keer, Aurora, going against Johnson and Curtis for the title. Thirty-two teams from Illinois, Wisconsin and Iowa were entered in the tourney.

George Covert and Ted Mason advanced to the semi-finals before being eliminated by finalists Goldman and Keer, 6-2, 6-3. They beat Carney and Olson, Rochelle, 2-6, 6-4, 6-3, then dropped Hendrichs and Buchanan, Sterling, 6-1, 3-6, 6-2, and Block and Chudick, Aurora, 6-1, 6-3, before losing.

Bud Lair and Boh McNamara were forced to forfeit in the second round when Lair was overcome by the heat and was taken to the Sterling hospital. He was reported fully recovered later last night.

They beat Huits and Partner, Sterling, 6-2, 6-3, and dropped the first set, 7-5, and were even, 4-4, in the second with Fred and Don Shuman, father and son entry of Morrison, when Lair was forced to withdraw.

Don Russell and Mike Rosenberger lost to Schuder and Hancock, Rockford, 8-10, 6-4, 6-3, while Howard Quick and George Acker lost to Hughes and Erickson, Rockford, seeded No. 1, 6-2, 6-1, after eliminating Peterson and Floberg, 3-6, 6-3, 6-2.

Observation Post

New York (AP)—While visiting All-American conference football camps, Commissioner Jonas Ingram plans to "outline the AAF's rules on gambling and warn the players of various pitfalls and gamblers' tricks they must watch for." Wonder where an admiral learned all those devious dodges?

Both the Rock Falls Boosters, who appeared here last night in the Airport arc light feature, and the Rock Falls Rockets softball team, made up of high school players, are looking for games on a home and home basis in this area, it was learned today.

STERLING SEEKS GAMES

The Sterling Rockets are anxious to book a game with any of the leading Midwest league teams for Sterling, it was announced today. They seek games for next Sunday, as well as for Aug. 24 and Aug. 31.

REYNOLDS LEAD CUT; KNACKS WIN

Merchants in 11-9 Victory Over R & H

Knacks moved up over the .500 mark yesterday in the Western division race, meanwhile cutting the Reynolds lead over Sterling with a hard-fought 4-3 victory in the nightcap of a Reynolds field twin bill yesterday afternoon behind eight-hit pitching by youthful Bob Currie.

In the opener on the special card, the Merchants doubled Roberts & Hess in a game marred by a dozen errors, 11-9, coming up with two runs in the eighth inning to gain their victory.

Power-packed Knacks came up with one big inning to get the nod over the Wiremen, scoring all four runs in the sixth frame after Reynolds had scored two in the second and one in the fifth to gain a 3-0 lead.

"Bus" Egler's single after Whitman had skied out started the sixth inning rumpus, and it was followed by hits by Walt Knack, "Pinky" Walters, Hintz and Don Youngmark, all in succession.

Manager "Hi" Emmert paraded four pitchers to the firing line for the Wiremen in an effort to hold the Reynolds lead, but it was to no avail. Johnny Rucker, Went Frye, Johnny Rohr and Armand Ripelle were all on the mound for the losers.

William Conroy, Chicago district chief scout for the Chicago Cubs, viewed the double bill and was impressed by the work of Johnny Sloan, Reynolds third sacker, and Currie and Walters, second sacker of the winners.

George McGraham started on the hill for Roberts & Hess in the opener, but was relieved by Curley and Schumacher. Bud Grover opened for the Merchants and was followed by Richardson.

Each team was guilty of six fielding miscues.

The box score:

Team	AB	R	H	PO	A	E
Knacks	35	11	13	27	10	6
Reynolds	34	9	12	10	6	2

Score by innings—Knacks 11, Reynolds 9.

Colts Top Harmon in Central Game

Compton Paw Paw Colts picked up their sixth victory in 10 games yesterday, drubbing Harmon there, 18-6, with the aid of six Harmon errors.

The victors shut out Harmon until the eighth, when they pushed over four tallies and followed with two in the ninth. Compton-Paw Paw, meanwhile, had built up a 15-0 lead up to the eighth.

The box score:

Team	AB	R	H	PO	A	E
Colts	45	18	13	27	12	3
Harmon	45	6	12	10	6	2

Score by innings—Colts 18, Harmon 6.

Only the Beginning

Coach Bob Voigt, who replaces Lynn Waldorf as head football coach at Northwestern this fall, puts six of the college all-star guards through blocking exercises in preparation for their game with the professional National League champion Chicago Bears at Chicago's Soldier Field, Aug. 22.

Sterling Gains on Deer Grove Win

Sterling chopped the Reynolds' lead in the Western division flag race yesterday to a mere 90 percentage points with an easy 15-5 victory over Deer Grove while the Wiremen were dropping a 4-3 verdict in Dixon.

Hinrichs and Penhollow held Deer Grove to seven hits while their mates pounded out 17 safeties, featuring their attack with an eight-run blast in the sixth inning.

The lineups:

Team	AB	R	H	PO	A	E
Sterling	34	15	17	27	7	4
Deer Grove	34	5	7	27	14	10

Score by innings—Sterling 15, Deer Grove 5.

Hospital Pounds Out 22-1 Decision

State Hospital pounded a hapless Franklin Grove team into submission in five innings yesterday, but failed to gain ground in its fight to overtake Polo in the Central division race.

The hospital nine drubbed Franklin Grove 22-1 in a game called at the end of five innings in which the hosts could pick up only two safeties off Norm Thomas' hurling. The hospital counted three in the first, six in the second and six each again in the fourth and fifth frames.

The box score:

Team	AB	R	H	PO	A	E
Hospital	35	22	17	10	6	2
Franklin Grove	34	1	2	10	6	2

Score by innings—Hospital 22, Franklin Grove 1.

Yanks Set 8 Track Records at Athens

Athens, Aug. 11 (AP)—American track and field stars wound up their two-day stay in the Greek capital last night by setting eight new records for the famed Athens stadium, but the most sensational performance of the meet—was marred by a foul.

The former University of Minnesota star from Sioux Falls, S. D., who won the discus throw Saturday night, returned last night for an exhibition and hurled the platter 183 feet, 8 inches.

His foot went over the foul line, however, nullifying a throw that was nearly three and a half feet better than Fitch's longest recorded effort. He consistently surpasses the recognized world record of 175 feet.

Other members of the touring American team took six of the seven events they entered and added three more stadium records to the five they set the previous night. Among the winners were:

Mal Whitfield of Ohio State, who won the 800-meter run in 1:56.9, snapping the old mark of 1:57.4 and John Twomey of Illinois, who took the 3,000-meter run in 8:50.4, beating Vassiles Mavropoulos who held the previous record of 8:52.6.

In the 200-meter dash Dick Houden of Wisconsin was second.

Paw Paw-Compt. Drops Welland

Paw Paw-Compton scored its 11th victory against two losses yesterday, knocking off Welland, 10-5, in an Eastern division battle, to stay in front of the field.

The lineups:

Team	AB	R	H	PO	A	E
Paw Paw-Compt.	34	10	13	27	7	4
Welland	34	5	7	27	14	10

Score by innings—Paw Paw-Compt. 10, Welland 5.

OHIO WINS, 18-6, IN MAYTOWN FEATURE

Ohio gained revenge for an earlier beating yesterday by drubbing Maytown there, 18-6, in a Central division game which widened their third place margin over the losers.

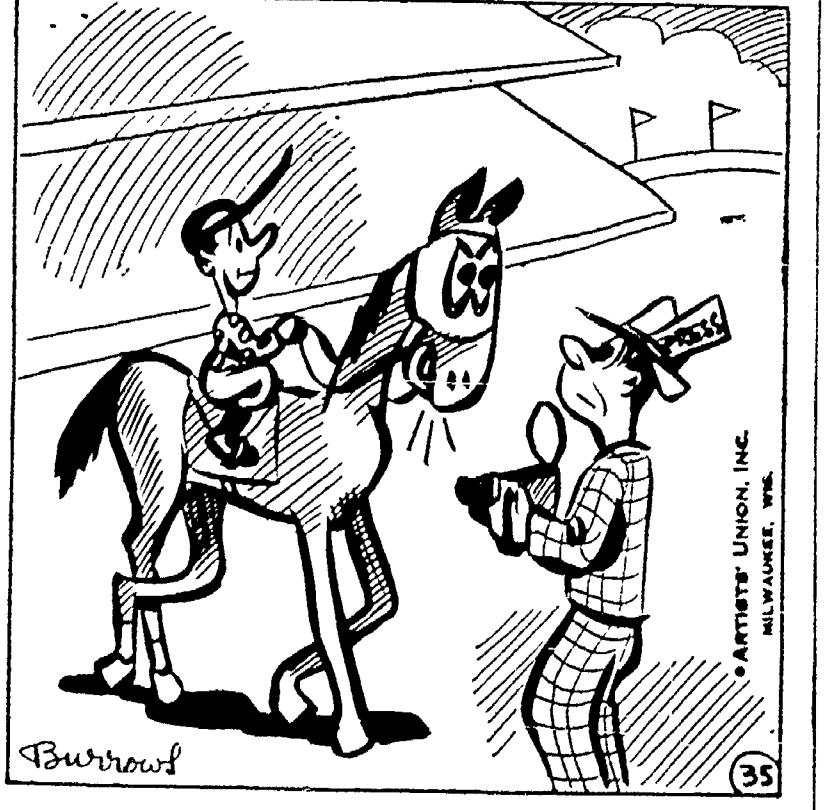

Frank Powers spared nine Maytown hits while his mates were collecting 19 hits and 10 walks off Maytown offerings.

Maytown presented a patchwork lineup when several regulars failed to appear for the contest, Maytown Manager Harold King said. The victory was Ohio's seventh in 11 starts. Maytown has a 7-6 record. A box score of the game was not available.

Dickson Top Man in Card Drive in NL

(By The Associated Press)

Murry Dickson, the slight right-hander with the big heart, is one reason the St. Louis Cardinals are right in their fighting to retain their National league laurels.

The gritty little curveballer, currently pitching the best ball of his career, was the big man in the Card's twin victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates yesterday which moved them to within three and a half games of the front running Brooklyn Dodgers. Dickson hurled a four-hit 5-0 shutout in the first game and saved a St. Louis 7-5 second game victory with an expert bit of relief pitching.

Dickson, as much as anyone on the club, personifies the fighting spirit of the rambunctious Redbirds. Similar to the Cards' dismal start this season, Dickson couldn't win a game until late in June.

Hatten Beats Phils

Southpaw Pitcher Joe Hatten and Outfielder Dixie Walker combined to lead the Dodgers to a 2-0 triumph over the last place Philadelphia Phillies. Hatten limited the Phils to five hits to register his 11th victory.

The fourth place Boston Braves staged a two-out ninth inning rally to come from behind and defeat the New York Giants 7-5 in the second game of a double header after the Giants had won the opener 6-2. With the Giants leading 5-3, two out and nobody on base, the Braves put together three straight singles for one run. Then Tommy Holmes smashed his ninth home run to put the Braves ahead.

Yanks Increase Lead

With all the runs scored in the ninth inning, the New York Yankees slipped the Red Sox in Boston 2-1 to increase their American league lead over the second place Sox to 12½ games. Rookie Karl Drews won the mound duel from Joe Dobson, giving up five hits and striking out nine before being replaced by Joe Page with two out in the ninth.

Bobby Feller pitched a 6-0 victory over St. Louis in Cleveland as the Indians and Browns divided a double header. The Browns won the second game 4-2. It was Feller's 14th victory and his fifth shutout. Jeff Heath's 21st home run with one on won for the Browns.

The attendance of 41,374 broke the season record at home for Cleveland with a new high of 1-063,613.

The Athletics and Washington Senators split a doubleheader at Philadelphia, the A's winning the opener 3-2 and the Nats taking the second game 5-2. Rookie Joe Coleman allowed four hits in winning the first game for the A's while Rae Scarborough scattered 12 blows in coming out on top in the nightcap.

Cubs Open Tour as Sox Return to Comiskey Park

Chicago, Aug. 11 (AP)—The Chicago Cubs, holding fifth spot in the National league by a half game today opened a 21-game tour while the Chicago White Sox, sixth in the American circuit, launched a 10-game home stand.

The Bruins, who yesterday rallied to whip Cincinnati 4-3 on Catcher Clyde McCullough's two-run single in the eighth at Wrigley field, tonight were to begin a two-game set at St. Louis with Hank Borowy (8-9) facing the Cardinals' Harry Brecheen (13-6).

The revived Pale Hose, whose 10-2 romp over the Tigers at Detroit produced their seventh victory in their last eight starts, were booked for a doubleheader against the St. Louis Browns at Comiskey park. Thornton Lee (4-4) and Joe Haynes (6-4) were slated to hurl against the Browns' Cliff Pannin (3-6) and Bob Muncrief (3-13).

The Cub triumph over the Redlegs enabled Doyle Lade, who weathered a 12-hit attack, to become the first Bruin to win nine games. Trailing 3-2, the Cubs filled the bases in the eighth when Eddie Waitkus walked, Anty Pafko singled and Phil Cavarretta beat out a roller to short.

Up stepped McCullough and singled sharply to left, scoring Waitkus with the tying and Pafko with the winning run.

The White Sox pummeled two Detroit pitchers for 14 hits and sewed up the game with a five-run splurge in the fourth inning. Ed Lopat allowed only seven hits as he moved into a tie with teammate Frank Pappas in their duel for staff mound leadership with 10 wins.

During the three-week invasion of six cities, the Pale Hose won 10 and lost 10. In the great closing spurt of their road trip, the Sox slamed 72 hits in six games, a 12-blow average.

COUNTRY CLUB WINS

Dixon Country club won an interclub match from Plum Hollow yesterday, 29½ to 11½, with nine holes played on each course.

Bill Witzel was low scorer for the day with a 71. Ken Wetweiler posted a 74.

Poland Is Buying Building Materials

Warsaw, Poland —(AP)— Poland is buying equipment for concrete works for flooring factories and building machinery from Sweden for 50,000,000 Swedish crowns, the semi-official newspaper Rzeczpospolita reports. Additionally, the Poles have placed orders for 100,000 square meters of hardboard from Finland, and 300,000 crowns worth of lifts, cranes and silos for concrete from Denmark. Negotiations for importing building machinery are underway with Austria. Similar purchases may be made shortly in Czechoslovakia.

Working Man is Better Off During High Price Times

Got to Have Something to Jingle, in Words of Boyle's Father

By HAL BOYLE
New York—(AP)—Is the working man better off in a period of high prices, such as now?
My father, who was a small business man and a part-time philosopher, thought so.
"A man's got to have something in his pocket that jingles," he would say.
During his lifetime Dad had a series of grocery stores. He always set up in business in working-class neighborhoods.
"A working man will pay his grocery bill because he has to eat to keep on working," he explained. "But groceries aren't so important to well-to-do people. They pay liquor bills or buy a new automobile before they think of settling for their food."
Passed Out Sale Bills
The last time I helped out in Dad's store was 15 years ago. I had just finished college, but it took more than a sheepskin to land a job in the summer of 1932.
Mother didn't like the idea of sonny boy going back behind a grocery counter with all that expensive education, but Dad said: "Maybe he can learn something there the professors didn't teach him."
So he put me to work passing out sale handbills around the neighborhood. Dad had a theory you should advertise twice as much when business slumped. In the afternoon I came back to the store and helped wait on customers during the late shopping rush.
Lots Of Hamburger
In those depression days we always sold a lot of hamburger. In good times the working man buys lots of round steak and pork chops for his family, no matter what the price. But in 1932 they were buying hamburger and cheap stew meat, and, in Dad's store at least, many were paying only with paper promises.

Hamburger finally fell to three pounds for a quarter. Round steak dropped to 19 cents. These prices depressed Dad.
"You can work all day and still barely cover the bottom of the cash register," he said.
Dad had the theory that low prices were meaningless in a period of major unemployment, as people out of work couldn't buy much anyway.
Long Way From Pork Chops
"We're better off when everybody's working even if prices go sky high," he said once. "Things move. People complain a lot, but they keep on buying. Everybody has more confidence. That's when people feel good—when they can hear their pockets jingle. You can't spend with an empty pocket."
Then Dad said curiously: "What did they teach you at the university about all this?"
I started to give him a glib recital of what I remembered from my economics class about the theory of business cycles. He didn't let me finish.
"You are getting a long way off from pork chops, professor," he said. He walked back to the meat block in the rear of the store.
"I guess I had better bone up some more hamburger," Dad sighed. "Probably won't sell a T-bone steak all day."

Teacher, 91 Years Old, Is Still on Job

Chattanooga, Tenn. —(AP)—Miss Yula Beatty says she'll be right back on her teaching job when school begins in Coaling, Ala., next fall her 92 years notwithstanding.
Visiting here, Miss Beatty said she would teach the Bible once more to the youngest at Coaling High School. She has taught more than 70 years.
Miss Beatty, who says she has no retirement plans, said she had found just one flaw in teaching—"I've always wanted to have just one grade to teach, just to see what I could do with the students. But that has never been possible for me. Even when I was principal of my school I had more than one grade."

Economics, Reds Vie for Attention At Meeting in Rio

Conference Delayed Two Years by Argentine-U. S. Troubles

By PHILIP CLARK
New York, Aug. 11—(AP)—Foreign ministers of American republics are heading this week for Rio De Janeiro in an attempt to write the hemisphere's first treaty of mutual defense.
The continent-wide conference, delayed two years while the United States and Argentina dispelled their differences will convene Friday (Aug. 15) in the plush $15,000,000 Quitandinha hotel in the mountains above Rio.
Sole absentee likely will be Nicaragua, whose three-months-old government by coup is not recognized by her Pan-American neighbors.
The stated objective will be the drafting of a treaty implementing the historic Act of Chapultepec which branded aggression against one American state as aggression against all. The act, adopted at Mexico City in 1945, would preserve hemisphere peace with the use of armed force if necessary.
Fear Commie Groups
But changing times have added these new concerns:
1. Communism—Brazil, which recently outlawed its Communist party, has indicated it wants the hemisphere treaty to include security measures "for protection of democratic institutions" against subversive influences. Other American nations, worried over communistic activities within their borders, may strongly support such measures.
2. Economics—Cuba, stung by the United States' new sugar law provision withholding quota increases to producer nations which deny fair treatment to U. S. citizens, wants the treaty to declare unilateral economic measures a "menace to economic stability."
Want Economic Moves
Bolivia announced it will demand economic measures guaranteeing reasonable volumes of prime foods and materials to

Germans Say They Can't Live on Pay

AP Newsfeatures
Berlin—The fact that the average German worker can't make both ends meet any longer under wage controls in effect since the Nazi era has led to loud demands for increased wages.
Trade union leaders have been pressing occupation authorities for pressing occupation authorities for approval of wage adjustments.
Because wages are out of line, a number of important industries, particularly building and metal working, are having constant difficulty in recruiting and holding labor.
A study made by the statistical offices of the three German states in the American zone reported that the average essential expenditures of a normal consumer's family of five ranged from 170 to 185 marks in a four weeks' period. However, there wasn't a single industrial group in which the average earnings of unskilled male workers reached that level.
Earning data available up to last September showed that unskilled building workers averaged only 131 marks in a four-week period. Even semi-skilled and skilled workers in a number of industrial groups earned wages below expenditures.
The study emphasized that the figures on expenditures were a conservative estimate of the cost of essential goods and services and actually represent a lower level of consumption than the one on which the cost-of-living index is based. On the latter basis, a family of five outlay each four weeks totaled 210 marks last March.
The word "area" originally meant a threshing floor — a raised space in a field exposed on all sides to the wind.
North Carolina's forests contain more than 11,000,000 cords of dead chestnut tree trunks standing.
Only five of the 40 islands in the Sicily group are inhabited.

Both got their Potash at the same time

YOU can save time and money by making sure the fertilizers you buy for your fall seedings contain enough potash for a heavy stand of clover to follow the grain. As a guide, remember that a 2-ton yield of clover hay requires 2 1/3 times as much potash as is needed to produce 30 bushels of wheat. Consult your agricultural adviser about the fertility of your soil and the fertilizer you need. Write us for free information and literature on profitable soil and crop management.
